If you're looking for one of the better known Sonoma wine growing regions in California's Central Coast, you're not far off with its proximity to San Francisco, which is the closest big city to the east of the county. Sonoma has no shortage of wineries and vineyards that are known for quality, with excellent tours available to get an in depth view. Most wineries here take pride in the quality of their wines, and offer tasting opportunities for winery customers. Apple Hill was the first winery in Sonoma back in 1976, and remains an impressive winery today, with tours and tasting available. Farmer's markets also dot the landscape of Sonoma, with a few located right in town. Near Highway 121 and River Road there are a few small places where you can stop and buy some freshly picked vegetables straight from the farm. - 1 6 4 1 * v - 1 6 4 1 * v + 2 5 9 6 * v . - 1 6 * v C o l l e c t t h e t e r m s i n 4 + 8 7 * k - 8 7 * k + 1 0 * k * * 3 . 1 0 * k * * 3 + 4 C o l l e c t t h e t e r m s

And I end up working on a Monday.... I wish I could do this full-time, but It's the way we do movies. We have reported on it numerous times on this site, because we want you to know what is going on.
